It’s almost here. I, along with the committee, can not wait to welcome everyone to Montréal. After so long being unable to join with friends, we anticipate a great time at the Hotel Bonaventure listening to fascinating and thought-provoking panels, great readings, and hanging out in the hospitality suite overlooking a beautiful duck and koi pond. (Please note that the hospitality suite will not be serving the ducks. These ducks are for looking, not eating.)

In these times of Covid, we want to assure everybody that we are taking all possible steps to ensure the safety of all our members and guests. We are actively monitoring the COVID-19 situation and will make modifications to our plans to keep our membership safe. See our COVID policy in this progress report and on our website. If you have any questions do not hesitate to contact us at info@wfc2021.org and we will gladly address them. And look for the trip report by one of our Concom members about their very recent cross border trip and all that was involved.

We will have a suite available for parties, book launches, afternoon tea, etc. Anybody who wishes to reserve the suite should contact hotels@wfc2021.org for more information. Also note that the hotel contains a gorgeous year round heated outdoor swimming pool, so don’t forget to pack your swimsuit.

The World Fantasy Award banquet will take place on Sunday November 7th, followed by the Awards Ceremony. Seating will be available for those not attending the banquet who wish to see the ceremony.

Finally, Montréal is a wonderful city with an amazing food culture, marvellous museums, including the largest art museum in Canada by gallery space and the oldest art museum in Canada, and a rich history. You may want to consider extending your trip, or arriving early, by a couple of days to explore the city. The hotel rates are available 3 days before and 3 days after the convention.

See you in Montréal!

For many years the subgenre of ‘Young Adult’ has been incredibly popular. We grew up on Brian Jacque’s Redwall and Andre Norton’s Fantasy and Science Fiction, both. Many of us are familiar with Tamora Pierce’s Circle of Magic and Defender of the Small series. Many libraries and bookstores in the early years considered all SF&F as ‘children’s literature’; a stigma still unfortunately strong today. Since the success of the Harry Potter series of books, the field of young adult fantasy has become much more acceptable to the mainstream, growing from being merely popular to becoming a dominant category of 21st century literature, bringing millions of new readers to hundreds of new authors. While focusing on younger protagonists, these stories appeal to all ages, including mature readers reminded of their own age of wonder, and of the challenges everyone faces in adapting to the obligations and opportunities of an adult world where new rules and situations are not always understood. Using a milieu of magic and mystery allows writers to make stories where anything is possible, beyond the constraints of mainstream literature. Fantasy elements also allow allegorical exploration of issues of authority and responsibility, peer pressure, and other forms of economic and social conflict. Characters based on mythology or pure imagination can transcend conventional definitions and roles and explore questions of diversity and gender, racial, and cultural identities.

In blurring the boundaries between children’s and adult fiction, fantasy gives us many delightful worlds and creatures to deal with real emotional and social values. Young adult fiction leads readily into Magic Realism and Slipstream. The genre celebrates fantasy fiction in all of its forms: epic, dark, paranormal, urban, and other varieties.

We invite members to share what they enjoy, what they have learned, what they have written themselves, and what they hope to see coming in the field of young adult fantasy fiction.

Fantasy, Imagination, and the Dreams of Youth
Multiple award-winner Nisi Shawl wrote the 2016 Nebula finalist and James Tiptree, Jr. Honor novel Everfair, an alternate history in which the Congo overthrows King Leopold II’s genocidal regime.

In 2005, with Cynthia Ward, they co-wrote Writing the Other: A Practical Approach, now the standard text on diverse character representation in the imaginative genres, and the basis of their online and in-person classes of the same name. They’re a founder of the inclusivity-focused Carl Brandon Society and have served on the Clarion West Writers Workshop’s board of directors for over twenty years.

Shawl’s dozens of acclaimed stories have appeared in Analog and Asimov’s Science Fiction magazines, among other publications. Many are collected in their 2009 Tiptree Award winner Filter House (2008, Aqueduct), and in two more recent volumes: Exploring Dark Fiction #3: A Primer to Nisi Shawl (2018, Dark Moon) and Talk Like a Man (2019, PM Press). Their “Everfair-adjacent” story “Vulcanization” appears in Houghton Mifflin Harcourt’s Best American Science Fiction and Fantasy of 2017, and their short story “Black Betty” was selected by LeVar Burton for inclusion in his live podcast series LeVar Burton Reads.

Shawl edited New Suns: Original Speculative Fiction by People of Color (2019, Solaris), recipient of the Locus, Brave New Words, and Fiyah Magazine awards, and, recently, the 2020 British Fantasy Award for Best Anthology. They have edited and co-edited several other anthologies, such as Stories for Chip: A Tribute to Samuel R. Delany; and Strange Matings: Science Fiction, Feminism, African American Voices, and Octavia E. Butler, both Locus Award finalists. They contribute reviews and columns to The Seattle Times, Ms. Magazine, The Washington Post, and Tor.com. They have lectured at Duke University, Spelman College, the University of Hawaii Manoa, and elsewhere. Shawl’s Middle Grade historical fantasy, Speculation, is due out in 2021 from Lee & Low. Currently they are finishing a draft of Kinning, a sequel to Everfair.

Christine has been writing full-time for close to two decades. A graduate of MIT, she’s authored more than eighty books for children and young adults. Her photo essay, “Sacred Mountain” received praise from Kirkus Reviews and the Smithsonian’s Asian Pacific American Program.

Her shift in career was predicated by her role on MIT’s Educational Council where she met teens too shy to admit they read fantasy and science fiction. As a result of her advocacy she received MIT’s George B. Morgan award for excellence. Her current project is the The Lost Tribes, a speculative series about teens who discover their lives may be a lie. The series is illustrated by Patrick Arrasmith, who is a genius.

Christine and her husband, Ken, live in Kansas City, part of Tornado Alley, where they serve as personal servants to several cats and fish in a brick house that can’t easily be blown away.

My Trip Report by Ann-Marie Rudolph

From the US to Montreal and back again – by car – in the time of COVID

You can find a lot of info out there about going to Canada as a US resident by air, but not so much on the ground. I was driving, so I had to wade through the conflicting info to get up to Montreal on August 26th. I will let you know what I did, but keep in mind, things may change as the Canadian (and US) government changes its processes and requirements.

First, I wanted to fill out the information needed on ArriveCAN, Canada’s website, well in advance, but that was not to be. I had to wait until a few days before I was expected at the border before I could enter my information there and upload my COVID vaccination documentation.

This lined up pretty neatly with the required negative COVID test – it had to be done within 72 hours of arriving at the border, but none of the drugstore sites I looked at are willing to guarantee that you will have the results within 72 hours. Since I was going to arrive at around 8:30 pm, I could not get the test right at the 70 or 72 hour mark since they don’t test at night. So I had to wait for the next morning to get an appointment at a local drugstore. I should have made my appointment further ahead of time – I waited until a couple of days before, so the sign up times were limited. I also had to make sure that the testing site was using a qualified test method. They are listed on the Canadian website. But most of the test sites that are going to take a couple of days for results are going to be the proper test.

So, three days before my scheduled entry to Canada, I register in ArriveCAN. You have to estimate the time that you will arrive at the border when you first log into ArriveCAN, so they can figure if you are within the established time window, which I think is 72 hours. It wasn't the first time I tried, so there is a pretty short window. If you are not eligible, it does not save your info, you will have to enter it all again. I fill out the ArriveCAN information, which is mostly identifying info, contact info for time spent in Canada, and quarantine plans if needed. I upload the photos I had taken of my vaccination record card (front and back) and hit submit. A few minutes later I get a confirmation email from ArriveCAN with a code on it, that I need to print out so I can present it at the border.

The next morning I go to the drugstore drive thru (per instructions), tell the tech my name, and get a small kit with a swab and a small test tube with some fluid in the bottom. Still sitting at the window, I open the wrapper, and stick the swab up each nostril and swish it around for a few seconds, open the test tube and drop the swab in, and send it back to the technician. Very easy! Now if only it is negative...

It's about 57 hours until my scheduled arrival at the border. But that gives me some leeway in case I have to wait in line for hours at the border.

I check my email compulsively for the first day hoping that I will get the results back in record time, but no luck. I make contingency plans to sleep in my car if the results are not back.

I did get the negative test results on the day that I was to arrive in Canada, they came in the wee hours of the morning, so I did not see them for more than a few hours. Very happy! But now, no means to print them, so I downloaded the results in pdf so they were accessible on my laptop even without internet, and set off for the border.

Many hours later, and surprisingly on target with the estimate that I had made a few days earlier, I arrive at the border, and get in one of the 3 lines, behind two or three other cars. The wait wasn't bad.

Before I get to the screening, I put on my mask. These folks are seeing hundreds of people every day, and are at tremendous risk. I don't want to add to that.

I handed my print out, passport, and vaccination card to the officer. I offered him my laptop with the pdf of my negative test on it, and he took it to check it out. Just a little conversation after that – visiting for pleasure? How long? You are one of the crazy SFF people, huh? Normal screening conversation as far as I can tell.

I could have been randomly chosen to do a post arrival test, which they would have supplied to me, along with instructions on when and how to do it, and how to report it. But I wasn't.

Then I was done. Smooth sailing to Montreal.

The return?

I visited the Duty Free on the way out. When I left, there were about 4 cars in line at the one station that was open. Handed my US Passport to the guard.
Situated on an island in the St. Lawrence river, Montréal is the largest city in the province of Québec and North America’s largest French speaking city and the second largest French speaking city in the world, after Paris. However, most Montréalers – especially downtown – are bilingual so getting by if you only speak English will be no problem.

It would be impossible to list all the wonderful things to do in Montréal, but as a sampling, Old Montréal is a short walk or cab ride away. Here, amongst the cobblestone streets, you will find the Notre-Dame Basilica. Montreal’s oldest Catholic church, built in 1656, is known for its intricately designed interior, which includes stained glass chronicling the history of the city. The Montréal Museum of Fine Arts is the oldest and largest art museum in Canada by gallery space and the view from Mont Royal is simply spectacular. Olympic Park, where the Montreal Biodome is located, allows you to experience five ecosystems from around the world in one building.

Do you like markets? Marché Jean Talon and Marché Atwater are but two of the wonderful markets Montréal has to offer and are must-see foodie destinations. Try the crêpes at Marché Jean Talon. You will not forget them. And, wherever you go, be sure to pick up some fresh squeaky cheese curds. Looking for some great smoked meat? Look no further than Schwartz’s, then cross the street and go two doors down where you will find the best smoked meat in Montréal at The Main Deli Steak House. Want something more upscale? There’s a lot to choose from but one example, Liverpool House, a seafood restaurant in the Little Burgundy neighbourhood was acceptable enough for Trudeau to dine with Obama. Montréal has the highest number of restaurants per capita in Canada, with food from around the world.

We look forward to welcoming you all to our spectacular city!
Diversity Statement

The committee for the 2021 World Fantasy Convention is unconditionally devoted to promoting diversity within our convention. We will have a Diversity and Inclusion Committee on programming. We are actively recruiting people to create better cultural, gender, and community representation across all aspects of our convention, including the Art Show and the Dealers Room. We are looking at ways to increase diversity and inclusion both in our membership and in our convention committee and volunteer base. We agree that in the past there have been problems in the handling of community concerns regarding sensitive and serious issues and we are taking steps to address these problems. We want our convention to be a friendly, accepting, comfortable place for BIPOC, queer, disabled, and other marginalized writers and fantasy enthusiasts.

Furthermore, the Montréal World Fantasy Convention abhors the inequalities Indigenous, Marginalised, and Historically Underrepresented People are confronted with in policing and other aspects of society around the world, including Canada, and we stand with them. We are committed to ensuring that all underrepresented people are given equal opportunities to participate in all aspects of our convention.

Accessibility Statement

We are committed to providing to the best of our abilities the best possible experience to all our attendees, including those who need visual or auditory interpretive assistance or have limited mobility, or who require other assistance. Programming will take place on one fully accessible, recently renovated floor. The Hotel Bonaventure also has several sleeping rooms modified for accessibility; these rooms can also be rented with the adjoining room.

The accessible rooms are provided with roll-in shower and support bars. The adapted shower chair and toilet bowl can be added. The hotel also offers a 24-hour phone support. In the rooms the bed side tables are lower as well as the door handle and the peephole.

If you don’t require the accessible rooms but, for accessibility reasons, would prefer a room close to the elevators, we would be happy to accommodate you. For this, or any other accessibility issues, please contact accessibility@wfc2021.org.

Code of Conduct

World Fantasy exists for the enjoyment and enrichment of its members and community. Although we believe our members and attendees as a whole are rational and responsible adults, this Code of Conduct seeks to ensure that the behavior of any person or group does not disturb the membership as a whole or detract from the relaxed and comfortable atmosphere of our events.

It is important that you read and understand this Code. Anyone who attends World Fantasy is expected to follow this Code for the entire duration of the event. World Fantasy is prepared to deal with any issues related to the Code in as rapid and efficient a manner as possible should they occur. We thank our members and attendees for their assistance in making World Fantasy events enjoyable experiences for everyone. Have fun – just please remember to be courteous to those around you while doing so!

World Fantasy values free expression of opinions and open discourse; this policy is not established to limit those.

Behavior Policy

All World Fantasy events should be an experience where everyone feels welcomed and comfortable.

Discrimination (based on, but not limited to, gender, race, ethnicity, religion, age, sexual orientation, gender identity, or physical/mental disability) is not tolerated. Harassment of any kind is not tolerated. If someone tells you “no” or asks you to leave them alone, your business with them is done.

If you feel that you are being discriminated against or harassed, or if you notice someone behaving inappropriately (such as violating hotel or convention policies), we respectfully suggest the following:

If you feel comfortable doing so, point out the inappropriate behavior to the person(s) involved. Often this will solve the problem immediately.

If you do not feel comfortable talking with the person(s) involved or if talking to them does not resolve the issue, please report the situation immediately. Try to provide a name, badge name/number and/or physical description of the person(s) involved. Note that we need to know during the event about any incidents in order to take action.

Upon receipt of a complaint, an authorized committee member will be delegated to create a report of the incident, including talking to those involved and any witnesses, and work with the Chair of the convention to decide on appropriate action. World Fantasy will keep private the identities of persons involved as much as possible, restricting the identities to those parties with a genuine need to know in order to perform their duties. Disclosure of any identifying information of those involved in a complaint, or details about the complaint, by any staff of World Fantasy, beyond that described above, without the consent of those involved may be viewed as harassment and responded to accordingly. World Fantasy will be happy to help participants contact hotel security or local law enforcement, provide escorts, or otherwise assist members to feel safe for the duration of the convention.

COVID-19 Policy

All members are required to be fully vaccinated against COVID-19 and are required to wear a mask in all areas of the hotel except for their hotel rooms. Proof of vaccination status will be necessary in order to pick up your badge and registration package.

Privacy, Photographs, and Recording Electronic Information

Photography and video and/or audio recordings are frequently made by World Fantasy during events. The likenesses of event attendees and members may appear in those recordings. Attendees and members agree to assign without compensation the use of their likeness in promotional material.
Code of Conduct (cont’d)

Personal Photography / Recordings:
Please be polite and ask before taking photographs or recordings of attendees and members whenever possible. Remember that just because someone is in costume does not mean that they are automatically granting permission to be photographed. Video and audio recording and photography for personal archival use only is generally acceptable unless individuals make it clear that they do not want to be photographed or recorded. In that case, any photographing or recording them is expressly forbidden.

Revocation of Membership
World Fantasy reserves the right to revoke membership from and eject anyone at any time from a World Fantasy event without a refund.

Failure to adhere to any of these policies may result in possible consequences that include but are not limited to:
- Talking with all parties involved and attempting to mediate a solution
- Issuing verbal warnings
- Revoking memberships and requesting that the person(s) leave the event
- Involving hotel or facility staff or security
- Contacting local law enforcement
- Banning of attendance at and membership in World Fantasy, including any post-World Fantasy events.

World Fantasy Convention 2021 considers the safety of its members to be of the utmost importance. We are a community, and the health of our members is a key priority. We have a duty to safeguard each other and to provide a welcome, supportive, and safe environment for all, including volunteers, staff, and hotel employees.

We have a responsibility to do our best to protect all from infectious conditions that are lessened by effective vaccination programs.

Our COVID-19 policy was developed in consultation with our community and our facility. It is intended to comply with all applicable laws and with the safety of our members as its foremost goal. We will continue to follow developments, revise the policy as necessary, and communicate any updates or changes with members.

The following is the current official World Fantasy Convention Policy related to preventing the spread of COVID-19:

1. Mandatory: Proof of Completed Vaccination

To attend any aspect of WFC 2021 in person, members and guests must be fully vaccinated against COVID-19 with a course of vaccination approved for human use as a COVID vaccine in the country in which the vaccine was received, including authorization for emergency use. Each such person must present proof of vaccination, and attendees over the age of 18 must show a photo identification matching the name shown on the proof of vaccination. There are no exceptions.

2. Mandatory: Masks must be worn.

COVID-19 vaccines are a vital means of stopping the spread of the pandemic, but they don’t mean we can stop taking all precautionary measures. Properly worn masks covering nose and mouth are required for all convention members and guests in all convention spaces, except when actively eating or drinking.

Misrepresenting vaccination status or failing to comply with the mask mandate is a Code of Conduct violation and will be subject to disciplinary action. Masks will be provided to panelists, event participants, and staff and volunteers. Disposable masks will also be made available throughout the facility if, for any reason, these masks are lost or otherwise unusable.

World Fantasy 2021 wishes that this policy was not necessary, but the safety of our members and volunteers, and hotel staff, is our responsibility. Thank you for understanding why we have felt obligated to make these difficult decisions and thank you for joining with us to do your part to keep our community and those around us safe.
Programme at World Fantasy

Programming is well underway—we are working on final language for panel descriptions and in the process of adding participants with a preliminary schedule going out at the end of September. If you are interested in being on the WFC programme, there’s still time. Please go to the website and fill out the programme volunteer survey or you can fill out the form here: https://airtable.com/shrE0SUNcFm6Tl8W3

We are planning to be a hybrid convention with a in person and virtual component to our programming. If you cannot attend in person but still want to experience World Fantasy, fill out the survey! We are still in need of virtual programme volunteers!

Prior to the convention start, WFC Montreal is hosting a short writing workshop starting on Wednesday, November 3rd – mid-day Nov 4th. If you are interested in leading OR attending a workshop, please fill out the following form. Final workshop schedule will be available on Oct 1. Workshop interest link: https://airtable.com/shruy3icoJoIiDxPt

Art Show

Artists participating in the 2021 World Fantasy Convention Art show are selected by Jury. The deadline for artist applications will be September 30th 2021. Information and applications for the art show can be found at: https://www.wfc2021.org/exhibits/art-show.

Please contact the art show head at artshow@wfc.org if you have any questions.

Dealers’ Room

The World Fantasy Convention Dealers Room is juried and devoted almost entirely to books and art. Books are given priority, preferably new or collector’s editions. Art and art quality hand-made jewelry may also be included. The number of tables is limited and submitting an application does not guarantee a spot in the dealers’ room.

Dealers whose applications are accepted and the persons working at tables must buy memberships to the convention.

As we are still in uncertain pandemic times, part of this convention will be digital. And to those digital goers we’ll offer virtual shopping appointments! Do you want to see the tables of dealers’ merch safely through a screen? We’re going to have someone who’s ready to go around for you as a virtual shopping assistant to make sure you get to browse for the merchandise you want to go with enjoying convention events from the comfort of your home.

Book Bags

All attending members of World Fantasy Conventions receive a complimentary bag of fantasy and science fiction books that have been donated by publishers or authors. The contents of each bag are luck of the draw. There is one exception to this rule. If you are on-site Wednesday afternoon and help for at least three hours sorting the boxes of books and filling book bags, you may fill your own book bag.

Furthermore, if you register with a companion, please let the staff know. They may be able to pick from different bag piles to increase the odds that you and your companion get more variety.

We understand that different people have different tastes. A book exchange table will be located near Registration. Place the books that you do not want on the table, and exchange them for ones you prefer.
World Fantasy Banquet and Awards Ceremony

The annual World Fantasy Banquet will take place on Sunday, November 7th, the final day of the convention. Tickets to the banquet are not included in your membership but can be purchased through our website at an optional, additional cost. We have gluten-free and vegan options. We will be working closely with the hotel to assure that those with special dietary needs are accommodated. Those whose needs are not addressed here should contact banquet@wfc2021.org.

There will be space to allow members that don’t attend the banquet to watch the World Fantasy Awards Ceremony following the banquet.

Mass Autograph Signing

One of the highlights of World Fantasy Convention is an autograph session and reception. This year’s event will be held on Friday evening, November 5th, 2021. Books may be purchased in the dealers’ room during the convention or brought from home.

In order to comply with the hotel’s COVID-19 safety requirements, this year’s event will take place in multiple rooms instead of one large ballroom. Authors will be spaced at a safe six-foot distance, and room capacities will be strictly observed. Authors, if you intend to sign books at the autograph session, pre-registration is required. Signing space must be reserved in advance so we are better prepared to host you, and to ensure you are seated in the same room as your friends.

To register as a signing author for this year’s autograph session, send an email to Ginny Smith at WFC2021Autograph@gmail.com and tell her:

- Your Pen Name (for your name placard)
- The name of a friend you wish to sit near during the session. Please note that your friend must also request to be seated near you.

We’re looking forward to a fantastic autograph session!
Our heartfelt congratulations to Megan Lindholm and Howard Waldrop for winning the 2021 World Fantasy Lifetime Achievement Award! It is a well-deserved honour for both, and we are proud to see it awarded at our convention.
